PHILOSOPHY
OF
THE KENTUCKY SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND

We, the staff of The Kentucky School for the Blind, base our school program and services on the philosophy expressed in the following beliefs:

WE BELIEVE:

. . . that every person has dignity, is of worth, and is entitled to respect as an unique being.

. . . that every person should be given the opportunity to realize his/her potential and that the school has the responsibility of providing experiences that will encourage him/her to do so.

. . . that those basic skills and knowledges needed to function productively in our society are essential to each student and that it is the school's function to introduce and nurture those skills and knowledges.

. . . that every student should be equipped with a knowledge of the adaptive skills needed to compensate for his/her visual handicap.

. . . that the effects of blindness must be recognized by all staff members and reflected in the total programming.

. . . that each student needs to understand and practice the privileges and responsibilities of citizenship living in a democratic society.

. . . that awareness and appreciation of the fine arts, leisure skills, and other activities which enrich life are necessary to the student's optimal development.

. . . that the staff must assist in the development of self-esteem by instilling in students who are blind or visually handicapped an attitude of independence and confidence.

. . . that awareness and appreciation of individual differences are beneficial toward becoming a contributing member of society.

. . . that this school has primary responsibility for the education of the students enrolled here, but a share of that responsibility lies with the family, the community, and other social institutions.

. . . that the philosophy of education must be constantly re-evaluated to meet the changing needs of children as they face a very complex society.

Mary Opal Keith, Margaret S. Traub, Dorothy Hartford, L.P. Howser.

Dedication

This yearbook is dedicated to the following people for their many years of fine service to The Kentucky School for the Blind:

L.P. HOWSER
Years of Service 1946-1974

Before becoming superintendent of The Kentucky School for the Blind in 1956, Mr. Howser worked as teacher and principal. He was a pioneer in the development of orientation and mobility for blinded veterans during World War II and brought these valuable skills to the students at the school. He recognized the importance of residential programming and its relationship to the total educational process. In addition to fulfilling his duties at The Kentucky School for the Blind, he always found time to serve his church and various civic and professional organizations. The new dormitory building is dedicated in honor of Mr. L.P. Howser.

M. BLYE ALLAN
Years of Service 1907-1951

Miss Allan is remembered for her imaginative teaching in addition to her special work in dramatics and assistance to students who attended classes in local public schools. As a field worker, she was often the first contact prospective students and their families had with The Kentucky School for the Blind. Her enthusiasm and love for The Kentucky School for the Blind created the confidence which families needed to be comfortable in sending their children to a school away from home. Two dormitory living units in Howser Hall are dedicated in honor of Miss B. Blye Allan.

SUSAN BUCKINGHAM MERWIN

As teacher and superintendent, Miss Merwin's efforts were untiring. In addition to her interest in academic pursuits, she sought opportunities to enrich the cultural growth of the students. In 1916, she was instrumental in changing the name of the school to The Kentucky School for the Blind. She introduced Standard English Braille and phased out New York Point which had been used for many years. Two dormitory living units in Howser Hall are dedicated in honor of Miss Susan Buckingham Merwin.

SUSIE E. RARICK
Years of Services 1916-1948

Miss Rarick taught "little folks" in kindergarten and first grade. She eased the way for love and trust in their new environment and provided a solid foundation for their future educational pursuits. Two dormitory living units in Howser Hall are dedicated in honor of Miss Susie E. Rarick.

MARGARET S. TRAUB

Years of Service 1930-1963

Mrs. Traub's enjoyment of life influenced her work with students and their families. Her classroom was warm and inviting and was filled with hand-made materials which enhanced the success of her students. She was known and respected nationally for her work with blind children. Two dormitory living units in Howser Hall are dedicated in honor of Mrs. Margaret S. Traub.

MARY OPAL KEITH

Years of Service 1962-1977

Mrs. Keith's work as school nurse and field worker brought her into close contact with the students and their families. Her friendly and sincere manner instilled confidence and trust. She established good relationships with others in the health professions to the benefit of The Kentucky School for the Blind students. The Health Center in Howser Hall is dedicated in honor of Mrs. Mary Opal Keith.

DOROTHY HARTFORD

Years of Service 1941-1946 1948-1972

As dietitian, Miss Hartford made a special effort to know the students and their families. She was aware of the individual traits and interests of each child, and her cheerful comments made her a special person to know. Miss Hartford was concerned with proper nutrition and could plan everything from a picnic to a banquet with perfect taste. The Food Service Building is named in honor of Miss Dorothy Hartford.

LYDIA A. SCOGGAN

Miss Lydia served as teacher and principal for forty-seven years. The emphasis which she placed on academic excellence and the importance of Braille earned the respect of her colleagues and had a lasting effect on the lives of students with whom she worked. Her dignity and kindness were examples to everyone. The Classroom Building is named in honor of Miss Lydia A. Scoggan.

OTIS EADS, SR.

Years of Service 1914-1960

As music instructor, Mr. Eads was able to discover and develop talents in the students with whom he worked. His endearing and gentle qualities inspired love and respect by students and co-workers. The band room in the Richie Building is named in honor of Mr. Otis Eads, Sr.

PEARL ROE COCHRAN

Miss Pearl's work in the Housekeeping Department and as waitress placed her in contact with many students throughout the day. Those whose lives she touched remember her especially for her gentleness, kindness and cheerful disposition. The choral room in The Richie Building is named in honor of Miss Pearl Roe Cochran.
